Race Relations Conference Set At Jefferson Hi

Los Angeles police and Negro leaders today formulated plans for a Saturday community relations conference at Jefferson High School.

The conference, which will begin at 9 a.m. and end at 4:30 p.m., will be held in the auditorium of the school, at 1310 W. 41st St.

The conference will consider the roles and responsibilities of the police department and the Negro community as well as design proposals for the solution of mutual problems, said Sgt. H. Greene of the Police Community Relations Administration.

It is hoped interest in further community relations programs will be stimulated and respect will be generated by the conference on the part of both police and citizens, according to Greene.

The public is invited.

L.A. Council Flips Lousy Decision

Councilman Thomas Bradley, a former police lieutenant and former fighter for rights, Tuesday went before his colleagues and requested the right for the police department's summer camps for boys from minority areas, and WGN.

Bradley was backed by James Fisk, deputy police chief in charge of community relations, and a battery of Negro police officers assigned to community relations.

After a scummy debate, the majority of the council reversed itself.

Voting for the camp on the reimbursement of the restaurant were Bradley, Egan, Broad, Barnard, Timberlake, Edelman, Gibson, Powell, Lamport and Holland.

Bradley credited Councilman Lindsey Braxton and Peelman for helping him in the battle.

Right Los Angeles City Councilman this week pulled

$19,000 for the summer camps, was out to a vote

the rug out from under an effort by the Los Angeles Police Department to send 500 minority area boys to summer camps in the San Bernardino mountains.

Seventy percent of the boys who would have benefited from the summer program were Negroes.

One of the councilmen voting against the program was John Gibson, whose district includes much of the predominantly Negro area of South Los Angeles.

LOVING VICTORY

U.S. Supreme Court OKs Interracial Marriage Idea

By JOE HINGHAM
Interracial marriage, which has been going on since the beginning of man, was approved this week by the U.S. Supreme Court.
In a unanimous vote, the Supreme Court struck down all state laws prohibiting marriage between races.
The 9 to 0 decision came in a Virginia case in which a Caucasian construction worker is married to a woman of mixed ancestry, Negro and Indian.

and Oriental.
The laws stricken down not only affected Negroes but also, American Indians and Orientals.
Chief Justice Earl Warren, former governor of California, speaking for the unanimous court, said:
"We have constantly denied the constitutionality of measures which restrict the rights of citizens on account of race. There can be no doubt that restricting the freedom to marry solely because of racial classification violates the central meaning of the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment."

Amen.

Sentinel Issues Special Section for Local Youth

"This Changing World" will be the theme of a special tabloid section of the Los Angeles SENTINEL to be published June 22 and distributed free to students in South Los Angeles high schools.

Purpose of the special section for high school students is to aid them in finding summer jobs and for those who don't plan later to continue their education, to find permanent jobs and job training programs.

"Never before have students had so great an opportunity as they do today," said Leon H. Washington, Jr., publisher of the SENTINEL, as he outlined the plan for the special section.

"We hope every student uses his copy of the special section wisely throughout the summer," Washington said. "We hope all students have a cool, profitable summer."

City, county, state and federal agencies have been cooperating fully with business and civic leaders in aiding the SENTINEL to prepare as much compact information as possible for the special section.

Included in the special section will be a list of addresses and telephone numbers prepared and furnished by Pacific Telephone for students to call to inquire about job opportunities. The list also has been given wide circulation throughout Los Angeles for employers to call to list jobs that are available.

On the day of publication and distribution of the special section are: Thursday, radio Station KAEC has announced it will carry public announcements publishing the effort to help young people get jobs.

Look for your copy of the special section next Thursday. It will also be carried in the regular pages of the SENTINEL.

Death of $115-Wk. Janitor Reveals $156,827 Hoard

By BOB LUCAS
The source of wealth of a $115-a-week janitor, who died $156,827.32 in cash when he died recently, remained a mystery as the Superior Court was petitioned to appoint the executor of the deceased the administrator of his estate.

Thomas Pule, a 35-year employee of the Dept. of Public Works, was found dead May 27 in his home, 1322 E. Adams Blvd. He was 71 years old.

Pule's sister, Miss Elizabeth Pule, of 191 E. 42nd

St., has petitioned for Letters of Administration, through her attorney, Harold E. Maiben.

Miss Pule works as a domestic. She was out on a seven job this week and could not be reached for comment on her husband.

Pule's huge cash holdings came to light as Ally, Maiben, peered into the case. At the Bank of America, Central and Jefferson branch, there was a savings account of $70,000. Two accounts were discovered at Security First National Bank, of $80,000 each.

In addition, the deceased owned the house in which he lived and the Dept. of Public Works stated Pule's estate would probably receive money he had paid into the retirement fund. There may also be other real estate he owned.

In addition to Miss Pule, survivors include another sister, Mrs. Maggie Wood, of Jasper, Fla.; two half brothers who live in Florida, and the 10 children of a former wife, all residing in Florida.

How long will it be before the $305,000 is divided among them?
